

PERSONAL DATA

Legislative Decree 196 of 30 June 2003. Pursuant to Legislative Decree 196 of 30 June 2003, we inform you that the personal data you provide will be collected and processed by private-hosting with electronically and/or on paper, to be used for the purposes of this agreement, for the fulfilment of each legal requirement, as well as for the functional activities performed by private-hosting such as detecting the degree of client satisfaction regarding the quality of services rendered. The data may also be communicated to third parties for the purposes set out above and/or transferred abroad. Into force and pursuant to art. 13 of Legislative Decree 196 of 30 June 2003, at any time users can request in writing information on the stored data, to change, delete or oppose their further use, and exercise other rights that article provided by sending an e-mail to titanhost65@gmail.com Please note that the modification and/or cancellation from the data stored could restrict or inhibit the delivery of services required. The data controller is private-hosting States that in the absence of consent to the processing and communication of data as mentioned above this contract will not be executed.